Plattsburgh, New York

A college year is a time when through timid beginnings and confident returnings, through daily good times and heartaches, through tears and cheers, we question, explore, analyze, answer, abandon and remold. Realizing this enables us to become aware of both its surface and subtle contributions to our lives. We feel, then, that it is fitting to take full advantage of each of these years, to learn from it and to remember it, both for itself and for its influence on what we each become. This book is a glimpse at, and a memory of, a college year. We present it as it happened . . .

Class

Water, water everywhere . . .

September 13, 1961—"Residence halls open for freshman at noon" and for some five hundred twenty-five enthusiastic, uninitiated and some what apprehensive members of the class of 1965, the first of their college years has begun. Registration, picnics, dances, faculty receptions and the association with upperclassmen gave the freshman their first glimpse of a college year, a glimpse that resulted in organization. Their officers were elected and the class of '65 emerged from this beginning as a working unit ready to make their contribution to this college year.

Dr. George Angell
President of the College

Faculty

During their first week on campus, the freshmen meet those men and women who, through continually challenging their students to question, explore, analyze and answer, will offer what is perhaps the greatest single contribution of the college year. These men and women are our faculty.

Dr. Edward Redcay

The Honors Program is the newest facet of the college curriculum designed to help "each to become all he is capable of being." Coordinated by Dr. Edward E. Redcay, the program is designed, as its name implies, to provide special opportunities for talented and academically gifted students.

Tiwa-ya-ee

Sing-along with "Red."

Tiwa-ya-ee this year, as in other years, functioned with the purpose in mind of promoting the outdoor life among students here at Plattsburgh. Each month saw an outing to Twin Valleys, the college camp for which Tiwa-ya-ee has assumed partial responsibility. These trips, and the torchlight run from Whiteface Mountain that opens Winter Weekend, are the highlights of the Tiwa-ya-ee college year.

Science Club

Science Club's main functions on campus are to provide students with the opportunity to share their interests and special talents in science with others and to promote an interest in science outside the classroom. This is accomplished by sponsoring well known speakers and by doing special science projects. The emphasis this year was on student participation. Membership increased considerably, and the club's main annual project, organizing the Science Fair, provided an integrating force for all the club's activities.

Radio Club

Officially recognized in 1961, the Radio Club is an organization providing instruction in basic electronics and the fundamentals of communications. With the rapid increase in electronic devices for classroom use, Radio Club's function is very valuable to the future progressive teacher. The Campus Radio Station, K 2 J S z/2, made its debut this year and serves to provide practical operational experience as well as furthering international relations through personal short wave contact. The station also cooperates with local communications officials linking the campus with Civil Defense Activities.

Student Nurse Teachers on campus this year will remember a long list of activities of the Student Nurse Teacher Association: The Freshmen-Senior Social Hour, the trip to Twin Valleys, and the annual Christmas Party; the S.N.T. Coffee Hour, the annual picnic, and the Easter Tea; and finally, long looked forward to by the freshmen and long remembered by the seniors, the capping ceremony.

Home Economics Club

Home Economics Club provides an opportunity for supplementing classroom home economics activities through interests beyond the classroom. Home Economics Club provides annual social events including trips to Twin Valleys and Montreal and organizes many teas and brunches throughout the year. The club's spring fashion show is one of the biggest events on campus. Community projects are an integral part of the club's activities. One of these projects involved redecorating several rooms at the Children's Home.

SEANYS

SEANYS provides students who are preparing for teaching with the knowledge of facilities that their professional organizations will make available to them when they become teachers. With over 600 members, Seanys is the second largest Seanys chapter in New York State. For two consecutive years, Plattsburgh SEANYS has won national recognition by having two members elected to the Student NEA as first Vice Presidents. On the state level Plattsburgh has had the State Presidency for the past two years. This year, in addition to setting up F.T.A. Chapters in the Area, Plattsburgh cooperated with other Northeastern colleges in an exchange of ideas and personnel to further plans in professional activities.

ACEI

Associate Childhood Education International began its 1961-62 college year with a "Get Acquainted" coffee hour October 4. The year's program, which included speakers, panel discussions and two conferences, as well as several community projects served to fulfill the organization's purpose. The organization brings into active co-operation all groups concerned with children. Workshops were planned and carried out to raise the standard of professional preparation, and through a Christmas community project and the picnic for orphan children, A.C.E.I. helped to promote more desirable conditions for children.

The Northern Light

The purposes of the bi-weekly campus newspaper, the Northern Light, are well known on campus. It is, of course, a newspaper, and in this capacity serves as an informer and as a place of exchange of student opinion. The policy of the "Light" is to print the truth in all matters, and it serves as a factor of motivation in bringing about changes and improvements on our campus. This year the students found a Northern Light with a "new look." This involved a change in form at which included the elimination of guide lines and resulted in a neater appearing paper. Expansion of the staff made for a more effective "Light."

ET CETERA STAFF—Front Row: S. Scripah, T. Favilla, C. Carrozza, E. Martin-
sen, J. Young, J. Perito.

Et Cetera

1961-62 was the year that saw a new, pocket-sized literary magazine, still bearing the name Et Cetera. Functioning chiefly for the purpose of publishing a magazine of student literature, art, and photography, Et Cetera, the campus literary club, centered its activities around this goal. Members attended the State University Collegiate Press Conference in Albany this year, and discovered that Et Cetera is one of the few college literary magazines that is totally student run, student written and student published.

IRC

The International Relations Club is designed to help students gain greater familiarity with major areas of the world and major problems in contemporary international relations. The club brings in many guest speakers for the benefit of the members and the entire student body. Annually the club takes part in the Eastern States Mid-Atlantic Model General Assembly. I.R.C. is a robust, growing club on campus. It has put into action a program based on "Education for World Understanding" through active participation in campus model general assembly programs.

Conversation to aid the sick

Christmas, the time of the college year when life is full of joy, good will, and term papers, is the time when the Music organizations unite to present the annual Christmas programs. It is the season when the best of Christmas music is presented in the best of renditions, the time when Christmas spirit is brought to a climax on campus.

College Band

All musicians are welcome at any time to participate in the activities of the College Band. The college band provides opportunities for musical enjoyment and for playing good and worthwhile band music and transcriptions. The band provides music for varsity games, pep rallies, class day, and baccalaureate. The band and the chorale groups join to present the annual Christmas Concert and spring concert. This year witnessed the first band tour.

College Communtiy Orchestra

The College-Community Orchestra, the only orchestra between Montreal and Albany, fosters good music for the college and community. This music is provided for performers as well as listeners. The College-Community Orchestra annually presents fall and spring Chamber Music Concerts, a Christmas Concert and a spring concert in May. This year the orchestra presented an additional chamber music concert. The orchestra's Christmas Concert included a presentation of "Celeste" a musical narrative which was exceptionally received. The organization had the honor of being written up in two national magazines, School Musician and American String Teachers.

The college chorale presents on campus, in the community and throughout the state, the finest chorale music available for performance. The chorale is made up of the best voices on campus. It is responsible for much of the serious music presented on our campus and makes this music available to the student body through concerts given throughout the year. The chorale gives concerts at area high schools and goes on tour annually. In addition to the regularly scheduled concerts, the chorale makes local T.V. appearances, and sings for baccalaureate and commencement services.

Winter Campus Life

One of these days we have to get organized . . . Here come the girls. Ready? . . . But we can't take it off now! . . . Well, I'm gonna put on a beard—sometime . . . First comes the class ring, then . . . The bear hibernates . . . But we worked so hard for this money . . . I'm going to put it in the freezer for Winter Weekend . . . Is that the twist??? . . . Chalk up another one.

Winter Weekend

No snow . . . disappointment . . . torch run . . . "Mac Donough, here we come!" . . . all the way from Whiteface . . . Nutcracker Suite . . . no sculptures . . . more disappointment . . . basketball games . . . rah, rah! . . . cheers for the Cardinals . . . tears . . . dance, "Fantasy in Frost" crowded success . . . royalty reigns . . . "Of course we could have gone to the art lab to do this."

One of these days we'll have to get organized.

"Here we are, out of cigarettes."

"There, see, I told you I'd get to be king."

"Careful, we don't want it to go out now."

"Now let's see, the whole idea is to get it up past this interference and through the hoop."

... and then we left at intermission.

Footlighters

"The aim of the Footlighters is to bring varied and unusual dramatic literature to the attention of the college and the community." This year the Footlighters presented Archibald McLeach's J.B., Thomas Wolfe's Look Homeward Angel, and introduced a new facet of the dramatic arts to the college with conmedia delle arte original scenario. The Footlighters received special recognition this year in the form of a special invitation to perform J.B. at Gettysburgh College in Pennsylvania and through a feature story on Actor's Workshop in the Albany Times Union.

The House of Delegates is composed of student representatives from all organizations and classes. Its purpose is twofold: to act as a clearing house for the problems which concern the student body as a whole and to act as a policy forming body in aiding the administration of the college. House meetings are open to all students. Among the functions of the House are: handling of student funds, selection of delegates to Eastern States, assembly programs and organization of various student social functions.

In Memoriam

Dr. Grace Appleton

There are never adequate words to pay tribute to the truly fine. This year our college lost Dr. Grace Appleton, Director of the Nurse-Teacher Division. Professionally and personally, Dr. Appleton was highly respected and admired by all who knew her. This is perhaps the greatest testimony to the kind of person she was. But all is not completely gone. There is a small part of her in each of her students, a memory of a nurse, an educator, an administrator, and a friend.

Robert Northrup

It is always with mixed feelings of joy for happy memories and grief that they are but memories that we remember Bob. He was with us just a year, just long enough for us to realize that here was a person of quality. To say, now, that Bob was a good sport, a good student, a good guy, through simple over-use, sounds trite. And yet what other words are there to describe someone who was just that?

Spring Campus Life

We also serve who only stand and wait . . . Who said we could only have fun at Meron's? . . . Oh, these tests are really getting me down . . . Do you have briar patch legs? . . . And then he said, "You started the fight, now wipe the blood off the floor!" . . . Sometimes there isn't any snow here . . . I'll be back for breakfast . . . You're next! . . . And then, we'll have just one big, beautiful campus extending from here to Lake Champlain . . . What are you hiding there? . . . Gentlemen prefer blondes.

Circulation, layouts, etc.

Work, work, work . . . laughter . . . fun . . . depression . . . What happened to the Senior Directory? . . . Dick, come here! . . . War-ren . . . E-e-e-e-e . . . Let's have a party . . . Who can sleep on Saturday mornings? Not the Cardinal staff . . . Have you got that page? . . . What page? . . . But it did sound like fun-last year . . . Don Norton, you'll never do . . . Pickles and potato salad??? . . . I don't know how to do layouts . . . Staff? What staff? . . . Eat, sleep and drink Cardinal?, not me . . . "I'm gonna leave a nervous wreck" . . . But Dick, I'm already doing something . . . Oh well, Ogdensburg, here we come' . . .

Mr. Doh, our surprised advisor—You mean you finished on time?

What do you mean there's no copy ready tonight???

Acknowledgement

We on the Cardinal staff wish to express our thanks to those without whose help the publication of this book would not have been possible: to Mr. Herman Doh and Mr. Guy Rooth, our advisors; to the ever-patient Dr. Maurice Camp; to Taylor Studios for their complete co-operation; and last but not least to the administration, the faculty, and the students of the college.
